Tim

First, please accept my apology for this overdue response to your note and visit. Following your visit, we did promptly reach out to our colleagues in Region 4, who then were in touch with North Carolina.

Based on the information we received, the series of actions taken by your clients over a number of years and the decisions of the North Carolina courts, we see no basis for EPA to take any action in this matter. Barnes Johnson will be sending a letter in reply to the letter and follow up communications he has received from your colleague.

Gentlemen –

Thank you again for meeting with my client WASCO LLC on March 1, regarding its RCRA issues at the Asheville Dyeing and Finishing site in North Carolina.

We appreciate your willingness to discuss the matter with colleagues in Region 4 and with North Carolina Department of Environmental Quality. Just wanted to check on whether there had been any discussion yet and whether there was any feedback you might share.

Please reach out to us if you have questions as you continue to consult internally and with North Carolina regulators.

Best regards,

Tim
